

CPYRGHT

Prisoner Negotiator
Leaves for Havana

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (UPI) — Attorney James B. Donovan has left for Havana to complete arrangements for the release of 1113 Bay of Pigs invasion captives, it was announced here today.

The announcement was made by the Cuban Families Committee for the Liberation of Prisoners of War of which Donovan, who negotiated the exchange of Russian spy Col. Rudolf Abel for U.S. pilot

Francis Gary Powers, is general counsel.

A committee spokesman said that "we are meeting all requests that (Fidel) Castro made" for the prisoners' release. Castro had demanded $62 million.

Donovan was last in Havana Aug. 30 when he had several conferences with Castro. At that time, Donovan said the pledges of foodstuffs and medicines he had offered Castro were considerably less than $62 million.

In a statement released prior to his departure today, however, Donovan said he believed he had sufficient pledges in medicines and foodstuffs to enable him to conclude the negotiations.

Donovan, a Democrat, is running for the U. S. Senate against Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N. Y.).

CPYRGHT